Judge James Fentress presented his resignation as Recorder and also as Alderman, which was received. An election was held to fill the vacancy thus created in the Board, when L. B. Adams was declared elected.

Hugh Davis, Sr., presented his resignation, which was also accepted, and J. W. Tate was elected to fill the vacancy.

The newly-elected members being notified, were admitted and took their seats.

L. B. Adams was elected Recorder.

Messrs. J. & F. Fentress were elected City Attorneys.

The bond of A. T. Tiller, Town Constable, was approved by the Board.

It was signed by A. P. Tiller, J. A. Wilson and J. M. Mask and was for the sum of $4,000.

The bond of T. J. Walton, Treasurer elect, was also approved. It was signed by T. J. Walton, James Fentress, J. M. Mask and R. S. Hardy, and is for the sum of $2,000.

On motion, Ald. John Warren, J. T. Walton and N. J. Powell were appointed Street Commissioners for 1873.

On motion, the salary of Mayor was fixed at $100 and that of the Recorder at $75, for their official services.

On motion, the Aldermen were each allowed $2 for every meeting of the Board.

On motion, the Town Constable was allowed a salary of $250, one-half of all fines collected by him, and 10 per cent. on all tax collected.

Adjourned to Friday January 17.

Pinchbeck's Path Going Book on Home—The Book of the King Being Broken.

NEW ORLEANS, January 10.—The Fusion Legislature was fully organized at noon this afternoon. Senator McMillan, who had been selected by Senator Jencks, No. 2—Swords, Tad, W. C. and Huksar, who today withdrew from Kelley's Senate, took their seats in the Fusion Senate and issued the following address:

To our Fellow-Citizens, the people of Louisiana:

We present to you our duty to respect the anomalous condition of affairs in which we find ourselves, and consider the reasons that actuate us in this cause, and conduct we have determined to pursue.

We have voted with the National Republican party, but we cannot subscribe to the course that has been pursued in this cause, and we do not intend to do so.

McGuire, as ever, has, and is determined to keep this nest, as "Frog town corner." Call on J. B. Muse, who is the clever gentleman to "set 'em up."

No discount on brands All off O. K. in the happy family.

We MEAN YOU.—All parties indubited to this office are earnestly requested to come forward and make settlement at once, as we need the money to meet our liabilities. This notice is intended to apply to all who may be induced to us for either advertising, subscription or job work.

CHANCERY COURT.—Chancery Livingston was prompt and on time last Monday and began the January term of our Chancery Court. As the docket before him is rather lengthy, and full of interest to many of our citizens, it is probable that His Honor will be with us for several days. So far, business has been "put through," and from all indications is likely to continue until the old musty records are cleared up.

We take pleasure in calling attention to the advertisement "St. James' Church School for Girls," in another part of this paper. The institution is one of the best, and is highly spoken of by those who have patronised it. It has an efficient corps of teachers, all of whom rank high in their respective departments. The third term commences on the 3d of next month.

Died, at the residence of her son, Mont. Jones, Esq., Mrs. Temperance Hodges Williams, relic of the lamented Gen. Calvin Jones, in the 87th year of her age. Deceased was a most estimable lady, widely known, and highly respected for her many virtues. Her remains were deposited in Polk Cemetery, near the young heart's choice—honored and respected by all. Rev. Mr. Kone officiated at the grave and delivered an appropriate and appropriate prayer. Her after we propose to refer to this eventful subject again.

DUGAN.—Everybody knows Dugan, but everybody does not know that two of the cleverest gentlemen in West Tennessee are doing business for G. M. D., who himself is hard to beat, as is well known from New York to New Orleans. Pictures of the two gentlemen, we refer as a matter of course, to Crawford and Wilkinson. When you want anything fresh, "go for frog town." That's what the people say who have been there.

Out AGAIN.—We are glad to chronicle the fact that our friend Ross T. Worley, of the Bolivar Foundry, has fully recovered from his late serious illness, and is again ready for business. Worley is a mechanic right; understands his business; and those who want castings could not find a gentleman more competent to fill orders. In a few days, the Foundry, under the management of D. W. Parran, proprietor, will be fully prepared to execute work in iron for the public in general. We commend to all those who are in any way disposed to aid a legitimate home enterprise the unflinching efforts of the Bolivar Foundry.

The PLACE.—T. C. McGuire is driving, as usual, right straight ahead, and doing a lively business. His stock of staple and fancy groceries and plantation supplies is ample and worthy of any market. As a progressive man he is a success. Try him.

Board of Aldermen

They had some pretty sharp weather up in Biddeford, Maine. A lady attendant at one of the churches arrayed herself in four shawls, a waterproof and for cloak while a gentleman, who was proud and liked to be warm, was paddled with a thick beaver overcoat, a tremendous buffalo cloak and thick shawl, to say nothing of the scarfs and small trash.
